Who suffer from nervous and physical debility great help is found in taking Ayer's Sersaparilla. It produces the rapid effect of a stimulant, without the injurious reaction that follows the use of stimulants. The result of taking this medicine is a permanent increase of strength and vigor, both of mind and body.

"I find Ayor's Sarsaparilla just what I have neede for a long time. I have tried different medicines or tonics, but never found a cure until I used this. My trouble has been a low state of the blood, causing faint urns."-Lens O'Connor, 121 Vernon st., Boston,

"I have been a victim for the past two years of general weakness with turns of fainting. Have tried various remedies, but with little relief till I used Ayer's Sarssparilla. Some six months since I began to use this remedy and am greatly benefited."—Miss K. E

"This is to certify that I have been using Ayer's Sarsaparilla for some time, and it has done me a world of good. It has cured my headache, cleared my blood and helped me in every way, and I am determined to use it so long as I need such a medicine."—Mrs. Taff,

EARLY MANIFESTATIONS OF CONSUMPTION

If a person has an obstinate cough, which con menced without any obvious cause, a cough which is at first dry and backing, and subsequently attended for a time with frothy or mucilaginous-looking expec-toration, accompanied by wandering pains about the chest and loss of flesh, even to a slight extent, he is in all probability consumptive. If, besides, there be homoptysis or spitting of blood, even to the amount of a drachm, the prabability is increased to almost a certainty. If, in addition to these symptoms, the breathing becomes barsh, hurried and deep inspira-tions evoke a few clicks of a dry and cracking sound, or if the voice becomes permanently weak and hoarse, there can be little doubt that the person is suffering from consumption.

If a person, free from dysentery, and who has not resided in tropical climates, suffere from obstinate diarrhoes, which goes on mouth after month, with slight remission or intermission, even though there be no cough, he is most likely consumptive. Should this diarrhoes be followed by chest symptoms of the slightest amount, the existence of consumption is an absolute certainty. If a young adult, not addicted to enervating habits and not leading a dissolute life, without clear cause steadily loses weight, he is, in life, without clear cause steadily loses weight, he is, in all probability, consumptive, though no chest symp-toms should have appeared. When such, however, manifest themselves additionally the establishment of consumption is almost a fixed fact. In all cases where sny of the manifestations described make their appearance we should advise an immediate examina-tion of the chest and a prompt resort to apppropriate be frequently effected, and health placed upon a firm and permanent footing, while with every step in ad-vance which the disease is allowed to take the chances for a perfect recovery diminish correspondingly. Our readers must bear in mind that the most skillful and efficient treatment can do no more than to make sound and useful as much of the lungs as is present at the time when the progress of consumption becomes sus-pended. No means on earth can replace the lung tis-sue which has been destroyed by the ulcerated process. The earlier, therefore, consumption is attended to, the better are the chances for estisfactory results.

Latest Telegrams to The Star.

An Exciting Matter in Rockville. Special Dispatch to THE EVENING STAR.
ROCKVILLE, Sept. 20.—Today at 11 o'clock a growd numbering over a hundred was in attendance at the temporary office of Justice T. W. Stonestreet to listen to the trial of the five young men arrested last week, charged with throwing eggs and stones at a traveling show company who had given a performance at the town hall on the Friday night previous. They were also charged with using indecent language. The assault occurred at the railroad station and the arrests were made at the road station and the arrests were made at the instance of a railroad detective. The question of jurisdiction of the magistrate was questioned on account of his appointment being for another district and the case was removed to Gaithersburg to be tried Friday next. Afterward a warrant was issued for William M. Robinson of Washington, a state witness in the case, on the charge of carrying concealed weapons and he was fined $5 and costs. The affair has created much excitement.

orested much excitement. From Wall Street Today. New York, Sept. 20.—The stock market still showed a very moderate return of business this morsing, and before the end of the hour had subsided into duliness. First prices as compared with last night's closing figures showed considerable irregularity but the changes were generally slight, though Reading was down? Missouri Pacific, Atchison, Chicago gas and sagar were the only stocks displaying special animation, and of these the industrials alone exhibited any movement of importance, both dropping about 1 per cent, while prices in the railroad list were well maintained, and even some strength was developed late in the hour. GETTING READY FOR WORK. Public School Teachers Meet Today-

The Superintendent Talks to Them. The issue of tickets of admission to the public schools was continued today. It is expected that all the children who were not in the schools last year will have the necessary tickets by this evening.

Today the teachers met in their respective divisions These were the first meetings since the vacation. Superintendent Powell, accom-panied in most cases by the trustee of the da-vision, visited the different divisions and talked to the teachers. In a general way he said there would be no change in the work as compared with last year. The course of instruction and the text books would be the same.

In some cases the teachers listened to a short address from the trustee of the division, and then the supervising principal took the floor-and made the annual announcements.

LOCAL LEGISLATION.

Very Doubtful Whether the District Will Have a Day in the House Monday.

Whether or not the District has a day next. Monday depends upon the republicans having a quorum to dispose of the Langston case that day. If they have a quorum, a thing that doubtful, and get the Langston case out of the way in time, the District business will be called up. pointed Today.

The civil service commission has transmitted to the commissioner of pensions a list of 100 names of persons recently examined for appointment under the new law, which authorizes the employment of 438 extra clerks. The commissioner has selected 12 names from the list and recommended them to the Secretary for appointment. The appointments were approved by the Secretary today and are therefore the first of the entire number authorized by Congress. The 438 clerks are classified by the law as follows: 20 medical examiners at $1,800, 15 principal examiners at $2,000, 3 clerks at $1,800, 3 clerks at $1,600, 4 clerks at $1,200, 138 clerks at $1,000 and 115 copyists at $900; 8 messengers and 12 assistant messengers. All the higher grades of these new clerkships will be filled by promotions from the regular force of clerks now in the office. The new experient clerks now in the office. The new appointments will be to the lower grades of $1.000 and $900. Now that Secretary Noble has returned it is expected that promotions and appointments will be made rapidly until all the places are filled. When that is accomplished the clerical force of the pension bureau will number about 2,000.

The new clerks will be usigned for duty in the various divisions and the work of examinating accomplished under the control of examinating accomplished to the control of t ing cases filed under the new law authorizing a disability pension will be pushed forward in connection with the regular work of the office.

WHAT THE CITY NEEDS. What Mr. Douglass Would Do With the Railroads and the Long Bridge.

"What one thing that the city needs would you do if you had the power?" was the question put to Commissioner Douglass by a STAR reporter this afternoon. The reply was prompt. "I would raise the Long Bridge to a proper height and would compel the railroad companies to enter the city through the Navy Yard tunnel or thereaboute. Out on the Eastern branch there are from six hundred to eight hundred scres of marsh that could easily be reclaimed and on this when filled in, I would locate the freight depote and shops, leaving no tracks in the city save those absolutely necessary for passenger business and those tracks I would either depress or elevate. If I could accomplish that I would be ready to die and to wait a century or so for my MORAL WELFARE OF THE CITE. "What would I do for the city's meral wel-fare? I would amend the constitution so as to make it compulsory that at least two members of the board of Commissioners should be members or in good standing of a Christian citurch. As things are now Col. Robert is having a lone-some time of it with two such clasure as Hine and myself," and then Capt. Rossell broke the interview off short with a bundle of papers and an argent necessity.

The Rev. Mr. Fround, paster of the German Latheren independent Church in Hobeken, N. J., swoke early restorday morning and found his son searching his room for valuables. The boy had left home and led a wild life. He co-caped with $500 worth of jewelry.

NOT ENOUGH FIREMEN. Chief Parris Says the District Needs at Least Three More Companies. "Things are very quiet in the fire department just now," said Chiet Parris to a STAR reporter this morning. "Personally, I am busy getting out our annual report. Will there be a good showing? I think there will. Do we need more fire companies? Why certainly, but I'm afraid there isn't much use in asking for an increase," and the old fire-fighter polished his eye glasses with his handkerchief. "We need at least three additional companies," he continued when one of the crystal optics had been satisfactorily cleansed, "and some of these days people will want to know why we didn't have them. We are a long way behind the city in many important respects.' WASHINGTON BUILDINGS CRAWLING SKYWARD.

"Washington buildings are crawling skyward pretty rapidly," interjected Assistant Chief Lowe, who sat at his desk in the corner, "and when the time comes for eight steamers to try themselves on some of our big struc-tures there will be disappointed people all over the city. Washington has gone away ahead of its fire department in population, extent and buildings. There are lots of towns whose population will not ex-ceed 100,000 that have fully one-third more of men and apparatus than we have. So far as we go we are on top of the heap, but we don't go anything like far enough."

To all of which Chief Parris noddingly as-there is pressing necessity. Something else we need, and I am going to ask for it, is a new station house in Georgetown. The present building is antiquated and its location extremely unhealthy. Such a building, with the ground, would cost $29,000. I also intend asking for $6,000, with which to build a stable for the ambulance and its horses. It can be built on the lot adjoining the second precinct station, so we would not have to purchase any ground. No, there will be no new precinct asked for. The people of Anacostia want one, but I think they are a little premature."

Disorderly Colored Boys. Last night in Ridge street alley a crowd of colored boys enjoyed a large watermelon and when they had finished made it warm for a citizen by bombarding him with pieces of the rind, and the result was that several of them were locked up. They were Samuel Selvey. Norman Brockenborough, Albert Burnett and Lindsey Madrey. The last mentioned is a country boy, but he comes to the city and gets in bad company. That explains his arrest last night. Sam Selvey, who has a brother in jail on a charge of murder, had a large knife and a piece of a revolver in his pocket. The part of the weapon he had could not be used to shoot. not be used to shoot. Selvey has been arrested many times, and was only released from jail two months ago. Judge Miller today fined Selvey $50 or ninety days for carrying the knife and warned him that if he did not do better he would get where his brother is, Brockenborough was fined $5 for disorderly conduct and Burnett forfeited collateral. The country boy was released on his own recognizance and told that he had better remain in the
